OUR SCHOOLS.

While we are devoting so much of our time to politics, our schools deserve more than a passing notice. Newberry College will resume exercises on the 1st of October, with fair prospects of a successful year. This institution, judged by the work it has done, is entitled to the support of our own community, and lays just claim to favorable consideration abroad, especially among Lutherans-for, however often we may repeat the truth, that the Col lege is not denominational in the sense that it teaches, or insists upon, the doctrines of the Lutheran Church, it must receive its principal support from that denomination which is responsible for its ex istence. The Boys' School, in which the people of our town are especially interested, will be taught by a gentleman of ten years' experience as a teacher, who was formerly principal of the Preparatory Department of Pennsylvania College, one of the best schools in the country. Under his care this school is confidently expected to be more efficient and, therefore, more satis factory than it has heretofore been. It will offer first class advantages to boys who are preparing for any of our colleges. The Female Seminary has entered upon another scholastic year. The building has been enlarged and rendered more commodious, the corps of teachers is fall, and altogether the advantages enjoyed by | Conkling as a civil lawyer. its pupils are not inferior to those offered by many Female Colleges. The Principal, who is an accom- tion is in session in Columbia. plished teacher, has won the confi- Nothing important had been done dence of this community, and those up to the hour of our going to press. girls in our county who wish to attend a good school should not lock beyond this institution merely because it does not style itself a "College."

The Prosperity High School is again under way, and the new Principal finds the outlook encouraging. While the school is only a few years old, it is almost indispensable to that part of our county, and the people of Prosperity are justly proud of it. The trustees have always made it a point to employ good teachers, and the school draws its support from the most independent section of the county. There is no reason why our boys and girls should go a great distance, at great expense, to obtain an education.

GOOD, IF TRUE. Monday's News and Courier contains a long letter from editor Dawson, who is in New York, on the political situation. This year 401 electors will be chosen, the vote necessary to elect the President being, therefore, 201. The Southern States will cast 153 electoral votes. The three States, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, which usually vote together, will cast 51 electoral votes. These added to the votes of the South make 204, or three more than a majority, and Mr. Dawson thinks that they may with perfect confidence be counted for Cleveland. After discussing other political complications and making other calculations, he says that the chances are overwhelmingly on the side of the Democracy, and that the election of Cleveland and Hendricks is now assured. Is this too good to be true?

The Abbeville Medium says that supported in whole or in part by the public funds shall be free and open, is redundant; and he shows conclusively that the legislature has when we gave our construction. We might dispute about the matter until it is decided by the Supreme Court, but we have no particular interest in it and do not feel so inclined. The Medium makes a dignified argument, with- she isn't such an astounding vaout any attempt to appear smart. | riety.

The News and Courier explains in the following words why it calls the Independents of this State "Fid-

On the South Carolina coast the beach swarms with something much like large bugs which are called "Fiddlers." The legs of the "Fiddlers" are so arranged that they can move sidewise, backwards or forwards, without changing the position of the body. That the Inde pendents are "all things to all men" when it comes to politics is probably why they are called Fid dlers in South Carolina. The manner in which the Independent State Convention was held, suggests that the name is appropriate for another reason. When one draws nigh to the "Fiddlers" they quickly creep into their little holes in the beach. An honest scrutiny is exceedingly distasteful against the "belief" of the Abbeville Press and Banner, that the "standard of morality in the South Carolina College must necessarily be higher than it is possible for it to be in an unendowed denominational college." In reply our friend

Whether we gain friends for the State University or not, we shall nevertheless utter what we believe to be true, and we think it susceptible of proof that the boys at the State University are in every respect as moral, as honorable, and possessed of as much true manhood as the boys at Wofford or any other

Certainly. Nobody can object to our contemporary's believing that the boys at the State University are as moral, as honorable, and possessed of as much true manhood as the boys of any other school; what we objected to is the belief that their standard of morals is necessarily higher.

It is admitted on all sides that Conkling has a clean record. His reason for refusing to speak in behalf of the Republican nominees is a stinging rebuke to Blaine. He says that, as he is not engaged in the criminal practice, he cannot take the stump in defense of Blaine. It is not likely that Blaine looks upon

FOR A MUFFHEN AND DOMINICK ROOSTER. SALUDA, Sept. 16, 1884.

The writer occasionally drops into the Trial Justice's office, on a little business, as the negro always says, to get a little 'rice. Some days ago he happened in when a very amusing case was tried. The plaintiff in the case was Uncle Jacob, who was prosecuting two girls, each about sixteen years old, for stealing his muff hen and Dominick rooster. It being a day on which the hands had fin ished working the public highway, and being at leisure, they went to hear the result of the girls' fate, as they were sweethcarts of some of the road hands.

The case was tried by his Honor, and the two girls found guilty of petit larceny.

To make the case more amusing, his Honor allowed one or two speeches to be made by the girls' lovers, and they made the best de-fence they could under the circumstances— knocking English grammar too high to talk about. These speeches were complimented very highly by the by-standers.

After his Honor had given them a good lecture, and they not being able to pay the costs, he put them in charge of his consta-ble to commit to jail. At this time the crowd had gathered to nearly fifty in number, and began to throw slurs on old Uncle Jacob, who had done the prosecuting. It looked for a while that he would be lynched by the crowd had the transfer of the process of the crowd and the crowd and the process of the crowd and the crowd looking girls to for having caused such good-looking girls to go to jail. Some whites advised Uncle Jacob to leave as they feared he would be hurt-

Uncle Jacob was very cool until they got to the bighest pitch, when he very deliberately pulled out a small dirty bag made of sheep skin, about four inches long, and untied it, showing that it had different sizes and kinds of roots in it, also the skeleton of a man drawn on one side of the bag. He raised it up and spoke aloud, saving friends, "Ise cum from ole Virginuy, ise cum wid dese roots to put a spell on you all, and will on dose who has been t'reatain' me. I will do it before ten days. I will hab some of you befo' dis court before one week for stealin' chickens, an' ready for jail, same like these This announcement was as though a bomb

This announcement was as though a bomb shell had burst. Never has the writer seen anything have such an effect upon a crowd. They believed every word Uncle Jacob had said. Some began to apologize, others said Uncle Jacob was right, that they ought to have been prosecuted. He accepted no apologies, but told them if the cost was not paid by the crowd immediately, he would certainly carry out his program by putting a spell on them. Well, the result-was that in less than half an hour, they had turned over to a citizen property to the amount of one huncitizen property to the amount of one hun-dred dollars, to get money enough to pay about ten dollars cost. The property con-sisted of one wagon, one buggy, two hogs. one goat, wheat, oats, and various other articles. Uncle Jacob having got revenge, left after giving them a piece of 'vice. Now, reader, these are facts that I have written. I did not know that the negro was

ADDRESS OF THE COUNTY EXE-CUTIVE COMMITTEE.

DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS, NEWBERRY, S. C., Sept. 23, '84. To the Democrats of Newberry County-

involves the election, not only of State and County officers, but also the election of President and Vice-President of the United States, and a Congressman from this our Congressional District. In 1876 the Democracy of the State by one grand, heroic effort rolled back the tide of Radicalism and placed the government of the State in the hands of her own people. From the head-centre of corruption itself had the sentiment gone forth that "the civilization of the cavalier and the Puritan was threatened," and rain, political, social and financial, appeared the imminent result. Against this order of things our patriotic people arose in righteous resistance, and with them to resolve was to conquer. Since 1876 we have enjoyed the fruits of our effort, and to-day we can proudly point to the improved financial status of our State and County. But not only have we improved financially, Law and Justo the "Fiddlers," as well as to the tice have been administered to all classes alike, and no man can say that his rights have been denied him. So much has been the result of Democratic control of State and County affairs. May not the Democracy accomplish as much for the Union by the same de-termined effort? We have as our Presidential standard-bearer Grover Cleveland, who, in his administration of government in the State of New York for the last two years, has challenged the admiration of all honest, thinking men, by his sincere and zealous adherence to honesty, economy and reform. On the other hand we have as the opposition candidate, James G. Blaine, the exponent of all the tenets, methods and practices of the Republican party of to-day, which are most distasteful to the Democracy and all friends of good and honest government. Shall this Republican be elected President? If so, what means the great Republican revolt in the Northern States? Let us of Newberry County do our duty, and with our brother Democrats of the Union make one grand effort towards placing the Democratic party in control of In 1876, notwith-Federal affairs. standing Federal bayonets, we rescued the State and elected a Democratic President. By the force of existing circumstances we were cheated of the President then elected. Now the circumstances are different, and if we can elect our man we will inaugurate him. Let every Democrat therefore prepare himself to vote; let him keep his registration ticket in the right place; and on election day let him go to the polls resolved to vote the full Democratic ticket from President to

On Friday, October 3rd, we will have a grand Democratic rally in the town of Newberry. Butler, Thompson and other distinguished men will address us on the questions of the day. Come one, come all. Come with your Democratic zeal, with your red shirts if you will, and do not let the County of Newberry appear lukewarm in the effort to retain honest government in the State and to secure it for the Union.

You want the news from Prosperiry do you? Well, you shall have it, regardless of expense. But you see, it is kinder between seasons, and needn't call out to the printer to reserve more than one page for the Prosperity news this week. We are not having any May parties or Strawberry festivals, nor any more barbecues, and the crop of candidates has been so much thinned out that there is a very poor stand left, and they are so badly spavined and wind gaulded that they don't amount to much; and as for the poor devils, that got left, it will be a kindness to let them rest. One of them, who had been very polite and attentive to me, passed me at work in my field. the other day, and when I spoke to him he grunted and rode on-poor

So also, it is too early for 'Possum suppers, Thanksgivin' dinners, Christmas trees, &c, and since I come to think of it, there is nothing going on of an interesting character except chills.

There is the general bustle incident to the receiving and opening up of new goods in small cities. The cotton crop suffered fearfully for two weeks before the rain. It would be safe to estimate the shrinkage at one-fourth.

The farmers are been baie, looking as a skinned mule, until he loon-and he goes home with his heart in his mouth, because he hasn't the pound of candy that he promised his children to help pick the cotton. nor has he the piece of cheese, with which he expected to surprise his wife. The debt is not all paid yet, and 5 yards of bagging and 6 cotton ties for another bale, is all he carries back, except his sore heart. Why will people go in debt?

I consulted the very best physicians in the United States to no good purpose. I gave every patent medicine that was recommended a faithful trial and received no benefit. I took large quantities of potash and a pint cup full of arsenic pills. The patent medicine, pills, and potash unixtures fed instead of curing the disease. They destroyed my appetite and wrecked my system—I lost flesh and energy—I lost three years from my business and spent $2.600 in a fruitless effort to regain my health. At last, when I begun to consider my case hopeless, I commenced taking $8.50. In a short time, I was entirely cured. I waited a year after a cure was effected, and continued to take Swift's Specific off and on as a sort of safeguard, before I was willing to make public this marvellous cure. Being assured beyond the possibility of a doubt that the cure was permanent, I wrote this history of my ease for the benefit of my fellow-men. My skin is now as smooth as it was when a boy. I weigh more than I ever did in my life, and my general health was never better, I passed through last winter (which was an unusually cold one), without losing a single day from my business.
